

You can't afford to ignore me.

- You can be stopped if anyone in your vehicle isn't wearing a seatbelt—even if there are no other violations.
- You'll be fined $25 plus court administrative fees for violations.
- You are responsible for making sure all passengers in your car are buckled up, even those in the backseat. If they're not, you'll get the ticket.
- It's especially important to buckle up at night, too. That's when your risk of getting killed in a crash triples!
